

Index

- Aboriginal Justice Agreements (AJAs), 203
- Act Relating to Legal Procedure in Criminal Cases, 65
- Administrative practice, 67
- Adult probation legislation, 176
- Agonistic politics, 193
- Alternatives to prison, 150
- An Act Permitting the Conditional Release of First Offenders in Certain Cases*, 176
- Anti-Black racism, 129, 132
- Anti-social behaviour, 80
- Australian Capital Territory (ACT), 196
- Australian Labor Party (ALP), 200
- Australian research into community sanctions, 194–195
- Automation, 20
- Autonomy, 35

- Bullshit jobs, 20, 35–36
- Bullshit leadership, 35
- Bullshit transactional leadership, 35
- Bureaucracy, 33
- Bureaucratic law, 37–38
- Bureaucratic model, 167
- Bureaucratisation, 34

- Calculability, 34, 43
- Canada, probation in, 175–177
- Canadian justice system, 177
- Carceral citizenship, 199
- Caring approach, 180
- Centre Party, 58, 70
- Cinderella of justice system, 105–109
- Circle Sentencing Courts in NSW, 203
- Circuits of exclusion, 126
- Circuits of inclusion, 126
- Class struggle, 20
- Code of Criminal Procedure (1906), 151
- Collateral consequences, 178
- Commands, 46
- Community corrections, 3
- Community Justice Scotland, 85
  - smart justice campaign, 80
- Community Payback Order (CPO), 83
- Community sanctions, 56, 192
  - distribution, legitimation and intensity, 67–73
  - key themes in reconceiving, 193–196
  - local penal cultures, 198–203
  - mass supervision in Australia, 196–198
  - Norwegian penal and bureaucratic fields, 56–64
  - penal field, 64–67
- Community sentences, 160
- Community sentencing, 90
- Community service, 106, 166
  - workers, 161–162
- Community supervision, 13, 126, 177–179
  - in Australia, 196
- Community-based penalties, 3–4
- Compensation demands, 65–67
- Competence, 35
- Conceptual analysis
  - mass consumption to mass production, 18–24
  - mass punishment, 12–18
- Conceptualisation, 5–6

- Conditional sentence
  - with court-controlled drug programme, 60–62
  - with programme for driving under influence, 62
- Consolidation, 105
- Control, 34
- Conveyor-belt model, 167
- Counter-visual approaches, 193
- COVID-19 release, 46–47
- Crime and Punishment (Scotland) Act (1997), 83
- Crime control model, 167
- Crime rates, 4, 111
- Criminal justice, 18
- Criminal justice system (CJS), 32–33, 36
- Criminal law, 37
- Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act (1995), 83
- Criminal Procedure Act, 62
- Criminal procedure code, 45
- Criminal punishment, 20
- Curfews, 177

- Data minimisation, 94
- De-bureaucratising and effectivising” budget cuts, 58
- Debt surveillance and enforcement, 71–73
- Desistance, 177
- Differentiated Intervention Model, 152–153, 155
- Digital justice, 80
- Digitally mediated punishment, 93–94
- Diminished citizenship, 199
- Directeur Pénitentiaire d’Insertion et de Probation* (DPIP), 40
- Directorate of Probation, 109
- Disciplinary power, 21
- Discipline, 21
- Discursive citizenship, 199
- Distribution, 67–73
- Dividu* theory, 33
- ‘Do not’ obligations, 154
- Due process route, 44–45

- E-Cell, 82
- Efficiency, 43
- Electronic monitoring (EM), 68–69, 80, 106, 215
  - current electronic monitoring penal policies in Scotland, 82–85
  - penal electronic monitoring and mass supervision, 81–82
  - policy silos and digitally mediated punishment, 93–94
  - problematising legitimisation and penal policies, 86–93
- Emotional effects of supervision, 183–185
- Emotions, 179
- Employment, 86–88
- Ethical refusals, 130
- ‘Extensive downsizing’ of probation, 6

- Family, 177–178
- Fears of punishments, 183–185
- Fields, 56
- Financial penalties, 65–67
- Fine service, 62
- Fordism, 12, 19, 33–34
- Fordist management, 19
- Foucault, Michel, 12, 20–22
- Frequent reporting, 177
- Fundamental ambiguities, 91–93
- ‘Fusion of identity’ phenomenon, 35

- Global Positioning System (GPS), 81–82
- Good Lives, 155

- High-profile cases, 38–39
- History of probation in Romania, 103–105
- Home life flexibility, 86–88
- Hope, 19
- Human resources, 108
- Hyper-incarceration, 16–18

- Illusion, 39
 Imaginary penalties, 193
 Immigration detention, 85
 Implementation decrees, 37
 Imprisonment, 2, 4, 13
 Indigenous governance, 199–200
 Indigenous over-representation, 196–198
 Information access, 80
 Institutionalisation of probation in Romania, 104
 Intensity, 67–73
 Interlocutors, 124, 126
 Internal pressures workers, 162
 Internships, 42
 Irrationality, 36
   of MMB, 45
 Isolation, 88–91
- Juge de l'application des peines (JAP)*, 39–40, 44, 46–47
 Jurisdictional difference, 196–198
 Jurisprudence, 67
 Justice reinvestment (JR), 200–203
 Justice Reinvestment NSW (JRNSW), 201
Juvenile Delinquents Act, 176
- Koori Courts in Victoria, 203
- Labour, 19
 Labour Party, 70
 Law reformers, 43
 Legislation, 81
 Legitimation, 67–73
   of probation, 23
 ‘Let-off’ characterisation, 192
 Level of Service Inventory-Revised (LSI-R), 155
Libération sous contrainte (LSC), 43
 Libertarian party, 57
 Local penal cultures, 198
   indigenous governance, 199–200 justice reinvestment, 200–203
 Lower-class communities, 13
- Malopticon, recognising mass-productivity of, 22–24
 Management of Offenders (Scotland) Act (2019), 80
 Managerialism, 33–36, 196
 Mass consumption to mass production, 18
   Ford, Henry, 18
   Foucault, Michel, 20–22
   McNeill, Fergus, 22–24
   Morris, William, 19–20
 Mass imprisonment, 5
 Mass incarceration, 2, 5, 11
   to mass punishment, 12–13
 Mass penal control, 80
 Mass probation, 4, 32, 80, 150, 174
   debate on, 32
 Mass production, 18–24
 Mass punishment, 12
   hyper-incarceration and qualities of mass supervision, 16–18 mass incarceration to mass punishment, 12–13
   penal growth beyond US, 13–16
 Mass supervision
   in Australia, 196–198
   dimensions, 56
 Mass supervision, 3, 11–12, 25–27, 174, 211
   challenging, 6–7
   conceptualising, 5–6 era of, 150–151
   and individual and collective resistance, 216–217
   penal practice in Chile, 158–168
   qualitative and experiential dimensions, 4 qualitative dimensions, 213 qualities, 16–18
   re/construction, 213–215
   risk model for mass supervision in Chile, 155–157
   supervision in ‘global-south’ context, 151–155
 Mass supervision, 80–82
 McDonaldisation, 19, 33–35

- McDonaldisation, managerialism and bureaucracy (MMB), 36
 French causes of, 37–41
 impact of Mmb on probation and re-entry, 41–47 normative power and power of norms, 40–41
 prison and probation merger, 39–40
 public opinion and high-profile cases, 38–39
- McDonaldisation-Managerial-Bureaucratic model, 33
- McRe-entry, 43–46
- Measure, 150
- Mediation Service, 64
- Misrecognition, 123
 accommodating, 136–137
 methods and data, 125–126
 paroled subject, misrecognising people, 126–129
 penal state, 133–135
 refusing misrecognition and penal logics, 129–133 resistance undergirded by refusal, 136
- Morris, William, 19–20
- Municipal advice service, 70
- Murri Courts in Qld, 203
- ‘My Day N Court’ app, 82
- National Agreement on Closing the Gap* (2020), 203
- National Collection Agency, 65
- National penal policy, 85
- National Strategy for Community Justice (2022), 80
- Neoliberalism, 19
- Net-widening, 111
- New public management (NPM), 33–35
- Newspeak, 46
- Night confinement, 152
- Non-custodial sanctions, 160
- Non-custodial sentences, 103
- Non-governmental organisations (NGOs), 104
- Non-white communities, 13
- Normative power, 40–41
- Northern Territory (NT), 196
- Norway, 55, 64
- Norwegian Correctional Service, 55–56, 59
- Norwegian Labour Party, 58
- Norwegian law, 67
- Norwegian Mediation Service, 70
- Norwegian penal and bureaucratic fields, 56
 conditional sentence with court-controlled drug programme, 60–62 conditional sentence with programme for driving under influence, 62 paragraph 12, 62–63
 penal field in practice, 59–60
 policy drivers, 59
 political drivers, 57–59
 restorative process, 63
 youth follow-up, 63
 youth punishment, 63–64
- Norwegian punishment, 14
- Nunga Courts in SA, 203
- NVivo 12 software, 158
- Opacity, 134
- Open System, 150, 152, 155–156
- Over-charging, 115
- Overcrowding, 106, 115
- Pardon, 150
- Parole, 2–3, 122, 196, 216
 agency, 123
 in Canada, 176
- Partial reclusion, 154
- Penal electronic monitoring, 81–82
- Penal field, 64–67
- Penal growth beyond US, 13–16
- Penal policy, 80
- Penal practice in Chile, 158
 community service, 166
 deadlines, 162–163
 intervention vs. surveillance, 159–162

- rehabilitation in era of mass supervision, 167–168
- risk model, 163–166
- Penal state, 133–135
- Penalty, 193
- Penological nostalgia, 16
- Petty-manager positions, 35
- Policy silos, 93–94
- Politics of community sanctions in Australia, 195–196
- Population pressure, 153
- Power, 21
  - of norms, 40–41
- Predictability, 34
- Presence-monitoring technology, 81
- Prison and probation merger, 39–40
- Probation, 2–3, 18, 32, 181–183, 213
  - in Canada, 4, 175–177
  - changing role of, 59–60
  - counsellors, 107–109
  - in England and Wales, 151
  - experiential dimensions, 174
  - impact of Mmb on, 41–47
  - purpose of, 179–181
  - in Romania, 102
  - services, 39
  - short history of, 103–105
  - workers, 161
- Probation officers (POs), 36, 106–107
- Probationers, 113, 176–177
  - loved ones, 177–179
  - support, 185–186
- Progress Party, 57–58, 70
- Progressive nationalism, 85
- Prosecutors, 41–42
- Public criminologies, 193
- Public opinion, 38–39
- Punishment, 2, 175, 211
  - debt, 67, 71
  - drift, 175
  - supervisory forms, 2
  - transcarceration to mass supervision, 2–5
- Qualitative phenomenological approach, 158
- Race, 129
- Radio-frequency monitoring, 81
- Re-entry
  - judges, 36
  - impact of Mmb on, 41–47
- Recidivism studies, 154, 157
- Reductionism, 81
- Refusal, 124, 136
- Rehabilitation, 151, 159–160
  - in era of mass supervision, 167–168
- Relatedness, 35
- Remote and continuous transdermal alcohol monitoring, 82
- Residential restrictions, 177
- Restorative process, 63
- Restriction of Liberty Orders (RLO), 83–84
- Risk model for mass supervision in Chile, 155–157
- Risk/needs/responsivity framework (RNR framework), 155, 196
- Road traffic offences, 103
- Role conflict, 160, 163
- Romanian probation system, 102, 214
- Scandinavian exceptionalism, 14
- Scandinavian penal exceptionalism, 56
- Scientific management, 18
- Scotland, 80
  - current electronic monitoring penal policies in, 82–85
- Scottish Biometrics Commissioner Act 2020, 94
- Scottish National Party (SNP), 85
- Secondary prisonisation, 215
- Secondary supervision, 174
  - community supervision and probationers, 177–179
  - experiences, 181–185
  - findings, 179–181
  - method, 179
  - probation in Canada, 175–177
  - probationer support, 185–186
- Self-determination theory (SDT), 35

- Self-making strategies, 130
- Sentences implementation law, 38
- Shawshank Redemption, The*, 192
- Social control, 95
- Social investment bonds, 202
- Social order, 22
- Social reinsertion, 160
- Social Reintegration Centres (CRS), 158
- Social relationships, 181–183
- Social space, 56
- Sociology of punishment, 193
- Soft penalty, 32
- Sovereign power, 21
- Spatio-temporal confinement, 89
- Statist capital, 56
- Subsidiary imprisonment, 62
- Substitutive sanctions, 150, 154
- Supervision, 2, 4, 25, 127–128
  - in ‘global-south’ context, 151–155
  - and impacts, 215–216
- Target culture, 162, 165
- Technical proletarianization, 167
- ‘To do’ obligations, 154
- Transcarceration to mass supervision, 2–5
- Transparency, 80
- Transtheoretical Model, 155
- Uniformity, 43
- Unity of power, 37
- Vision for Justice in Scotland (2022), 80
- Wacquant’s model of higher and lower state nobility, 57
- Weekend detention, 106
- Weight of supervision, 103
  - Cinderella of justice system, 105–109
  - data, 110–114
  - short history of probation in Romania, 103–105
- Western Australia (WA), 196
- World Prison Brief (WPB), 14
- Youth follow-up, 63, 69–71
- Youth Offending Teams (YOTS), 198
- Youth punishment, 63–64, 69–71
- Zero-tolerance policies, 32, 38
  - French causes of Mmb, 37–41
  - impact of Mmb on probation and re-entry, 41–47
  - need for combined model, 35–36
  - theoretical model, 33–36